

Title: My College Transition

(0:05) so I'm a brand-spanking-new freshman in (0:09) college and like I guess I just assumed
(0:12) that once I was at school that like that (0:13) was gonna be it I was kind of a million
(0:15) friends I was gonna just party all the (0:18) time and it was just gonna be a lit but (0:20) it's just not really like that like I
(0:23) haven't really found anyone I'm super (0:24) close with and like I spend a lot of (0:26) time in my dorm room and all those (0:28) people I talk to you like they always
(0:29) say the same thing you're like I swear
(0:32) to god you're gonna find your people but (0:35) like where are they like what does that
(0:38) mean and I feel like everyone else kind
(0:40) of has found their squad like people
(0:42) walk around in big posses and I
(0:43) definitely don't have that I feel more (0:44) like a planet in the solar system and (0:46) like I know people and I say hi to them
(0:48) when I pass by them but you know
(0:50) sometimes that's kind of it
(0:52) also like I have friends you went to (0:55) other schools and they just seem like

(0:57) they're literally having like the most
(0:59) fun ever
(1:01) I know social media is fake and stuff
(1:02) and like people are picking and choosing
(1:04) like the coolest parts of their life to (1:06) show you but like I don't know it gets (1:08) to you and they're all like partying all
(1:10) the time but I don't really do that I
(1:12) guess it's just weird because you know
(1:15) you wonder if that's what you should be
(1:16) doing like the phone sucks to the phone
(1:18) in general makes it so hard now this
(1:20) constant reminder of like all my friends
(1:21) back home and how close we were and all
(1:23) the fun stuff we did together so I guess
(1:25) that distance can just like really get (1:28) to you and to be honest making new
(1:31) friends is so hard like I'm social but I
(1:34) feel like I really have to force myself
(1:35) because I don't know if it'll go up to (1:36) you to talk to you I feel like I'm (1:38) always going out of my way to just like
(1:40) talk to people and I don't know I feel
(1:42) like I'm intruding that like I'm getting (1:44) the wave people and their friends I take (1:46) a lot of space and conversation so I

(1:48) just feel like just like friendship and
(1:50) hungry gremlin and I don't know I kind
(1:53) of give up and I thought joining clubs
(1:55) would help but you know just because
(1:57) people have similar interests doesn't
(1:59) really mean that they're getting long so
(2:01) I don't know that didn't really worked
(2:03) as well as I had hoped I did receive
(2:06) this letter from my mom who kind of
(2:07) knows how I'm feeling about this whole
(2:09) called transition but she basically said
(2:11) I have nothing to fear that everyone
(2:12) goes through this she almost wanted to (2:14) transfer schools when she first went to (2:15) college because she couldn't really find
(2:16) her place
(2:17) she also put in an op-ed from the New
(2:20) York Times where this guy interviewed a
(2:22) bunch of college students and they all
(2:23) talked about how the media portrayed
(2:25) College is like the best time of their
(2:26) young adult life but they actually had a
(2:28) hard time adjusting
(2:29) you know everyone talked about how easy
(2:31) it was but it's not really that easy and
(2:33) you know you can be surrounded by people

(2:36) but still feel alone so that made me
(2:39) more comfortable knowing like I'm not
(2:40) alone we're all kind of going through (2:42) this experience together and but
(2:47) basically I guess it's just you know
(2:51) things take time I've gotta be patient
(2:53) and one day my wings will grow and I'll (2:57) probably slide the big-ass posse and
(3:00) we'll go like burn and pillage or (3:02) whatever but to be honest I'm probably
(3:06) gonna complain about it so it happens
